New in Town - sethlui.com

“Among the new Japanese eateries that are springing up these few days, this one’s a little different. Look out for your next hang out spot at Daya Izakaya, a Muslim-owned Japanese diner along Jalan Kayu.

The diner is designed with wood furnishings and minimalist accents in the distinctively casual style of the izakaya. It all looks very welcoming, primed for being a place to unwind after a long day.”

New Halal Japanese Eatery - HHWT

“It seems like a lot of new halal restaurants in Singapore have opened up lately, from yummy Japanese tendon bowls to ribs & steaks and more.

Now, a new halal Japanese restaurant has just opened at Jalan Kayu and we’re super thrilled! Daya Izakaya is the newest kid on the block serving halal Japanese food in Singapore. The 11-day old eatery is currently in their soft launch stage.”

Daya Izakaya is a certified, Muslim-Owned establishment.
